NORTH CHARLESTON— On Tuesday, October 13, 2009 Goodwin Elementary School participated in a blood drive.

The blood drive was held in the media center from 10:30 A.M. to 3:30 P.M. Teachers, staff, parents, and community members came out to give blood and help the Red Cross with their urgent need. Brett Snyder, site director for the Boys and Girls Club/21st Century program, organized the event. He said, "The turnout was greater than expected. We had nearly 40 people interested in participating. The goal was 21 usable units, and we had 22." Principal Diane Ross said, "I was pleased with the parental support." Overall, the blood drive was successful in meeting the goal.
