

Charleston County ECPAC
CCSD Exceptional Children's Parent Advisory Council

The Exceptional Children Parent Advisory Council is a positive, solution-oriented parent advisory council that advocates for ALL students receiving special education services within Charleston County School District. The ECPAC focuses on collaboratively working with school and district officials towards the continuous improvement of implementation of services for students with disabilities. Our three main goals are: Advocacy, Information, and Encouragement.

We strive to include members from all learning areas, grade levels, eligibility categories, and geographic locations with Charleston County. If you would like to become a member of the Charleston ECPAC, send an email to ECPACSecretary@charleston.k12.sc.us.

The ECPAC currently meets on the 2nd Monday of every month, except July. All meetings are open to the public. Meetings are held at CCSD, 75 Calhoun St., Charleston, SC.

If you would like to share information or concerns with the council members, contact the Advisory Council at ECPACSecretary@charleston.k12.sc.us, or call the Department of Exceptional Children at 843-937-6500.
