A.C. Corcoran Elementary Principal to serve in new role

Charleston, SC – Charleston County School District (CCSD) is proud to announce Quenetta White, current principal at A.C. Corcoran Elementary, as the new Principal of Special Projects and Support for CCSD's Elementary Learning Community. White has served as principal at A.C. Corcoran since 2017. In this new role, White will largely focus on the major initiatives of the learning communities as well as provide direct support to the Associate Superintendents of schools.

White first served in the field of education as a classroom teacher at Claude Pepper Elementary School in Miami, FL starting in 1992. She spent seven years in Florida before returning to South Carolina briefly to teach pre-algebra at St. Georgia Middle School. In 2001, White returned to Miami as a mathematics facilitator at Irving & Beatrice Peskoe Elementary School, followed by a two-year post as a lower quartile mathematics teacher at Henry S. West Laboratory School.

Returning to South Carolina indefinitely, White joined CCSD as the Assistant Principal at Sanders-Clyde Elementary in 2009. In her role as Assistant Principal, White created the school's master schedule for all grade levels; supported the implementation of the school's vision, mission, and goals; participated on several Induction teams and SAFE-T teams; completed Competency-Building Plans; facilitated Goals Based Evaluation (GBE) meetings; and assisted the principal with all aspects of school operation and instruction. She also served as Interim Principal of the school for several months in 2011. In 2012, White was named the Principal of James Simons Elementary. During her time at James Simons, White facilitated the implementation of a full Montessori program for students age three to eighth grade, planned and opened a new state-of-the-art school facility, and worked to ensure that the needs of her students and families were met through planning and programs with valuable partners such as Charleston Promise Neighborhood (CPN), Trident United Way, and Parent Advocates.

White holds a Bachelor of Science in Elementary Education from Barry University, a Master of Science in Mathematics Education from Florida State University, and an Education Specialist degree in Educational Leadership from Nova Southeastern University. White is also a member of the National Education Association, South Carolina Education Association, and Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc.

About the Charleston County School District

Charleston County School District (CCSD), a nationally-accredited school district, is the second largest school system in South Carolina representing a unique blend of urban, suburban, and rural schools spanning 1,300 square miles along the coast. CCSD serves more than 50,000 students in 87 schools and specialized programs. With approximately 6,100 employees district-wide, CCSD is the fourth largest employer in the region.

CCSD offers a diverse, expanding portfolio of options and specialized programs, delivered through neighborhood, charter, magnet, IB (international baccalaureate), and Montessori schools, and is divided into three Learning Communities. Options include specialized programs in science, engineering and mathematics; liberal arts; music and other creative and performing arts; career and technical preparation programs; and military and other public service enterprises.
