Dear Magnet Supporters,

Thank you again for your gift to this year's Thanks for Giving campaign. Your generosity helped raise more than $50,000 to enhance the Magnet experience for our students, teachers, and faculty.

The Academic Magnet Foundation and Partners in Education (PIE) are already putting your gift to work. We wanted to share what your gift has funded in just the last two months.

SAT/ACT Test Prep

More than 50 sophomores and juniors took a 12-hour SAT and ACT prep class taught by test prep expert, Tim Jantzi. This class normally costs $500, but thanks to your support, students took it for only $50, making test preparation accessible to all Magnet students. This photo shows the students learning from Mr. Jantzi last month.

Career Symposium

More than 40 experts—doctors, lawyers, Boeing engineers, MUSC scientists, a Delta pilot trainer, an award-winning author, a CPA, a news anchor (see the picture below), an actor, entrepreneurs, a member of the SC House of Representatives, and more—shared their career paths. Students selected career tracks and then heard special insights from four related professionals.

College Admission Counseling Conference

Magnet’s guidance counselors will attend the Southern Association for College Admission Counseling conference in Raleigh. They will join with college and university admissions professionals to learn the latest trends and strategies in admissions and applications—information they can bring back and incorporate into their counseling work with Magnet students.

There’s a lot more planned for the rest of the year. With your support, we’ll host more student events like a post-AP exam party, senior College Selection Day, and Juniors Take Flight—a college application workshop.

Thank you for making these events possible.

Go Raptors!

Sincerely,

Jason Daigle, President, Academic Magnet Foundation
