Zamboki named Director of Early Childhood Learning

Charleston, SC-- Charleston County School District (CCSD) would like to welcome Christine Zamboki as the director of Early Learning.

Zamboki has been a CCSD administrator for the past six years serving at North Charleston Creative Arts and most recently at James B. Edwards. She began her career as a primary teacher at Burns Elementary and Stono Park Elementary.

"Ms. Zamboki comes to us with a wealth of knowledge and experience that makes her a great fit for this position. Her work with assisting and implementing the preschool program at a new school afforded her the full-spectrum view," says Ruth Taylor, Executive Director for Early Learning. "Her skill set, professionalism, and passion are what we need to continue this very important work."

She has also served as a Positive Behavior Interventions & Supports (PBIS) coach and behavior interventionist, and has completed principal development programs offered through the district.

Zamboki holds a Bachelor of Science in Early Childhood Education from the College of Charleston and a master's (M.ED) in Elementary Education Administration and Supervision.

About the Charleston County School District

Charleston County School District (CCSD) is the second largest school system in South Carolina representing a unique blend of urban, suburban, and rural schools that span 1,000 square miles along the coast. CCSD serves more than 50,000 students in 86 schools and specialized programs. With approximately 6,100 employees district-wide, CCSD is the fourth largest employer in the region.

CCSD offers a diverse, expanding portfolio of options and specialized programs, delivered through neighborhood, charter, magnet, IB (international baccalaureate), and Montessori schools, and is divided into three Learning Communities. Options include specialized programs in science, engineering and mathematics; liberal arts; music and other creative and performing arts; career and technical preparation programs; and military and other public service enterprises.
