Charleston, SC — Charleston County School District (CCSD) is proud to announce Janet Brown as the principal of Ladson Elementary School. Brown has served as interim principal of Ladson for the past year after coming to the district from Forestbrook Elementary.

Brown is an enthusiastic and driven administrator with 25 years of experience in the field of education serving students in all grade levels from preschool through sixth grade. She has demonstrated success and expertise in supervising instruction, analyzing data, evaluating teachers, communicating effectively, developing positive relationships with stakeholders, maintaining a safe and orderly environment conducive to all learners, and problem solving for the daily operations of the school as well as for students with diverse instructional and behavioral needs.

Before becoming a principal in 2016, Brown served as the assistant principal at Forestbrook Elementary from 2003-2016 and at Myrtle Beach Intermediate from 2000-2003. She began her career as an elementary classroom teacher the decade prior in Maryland before moving to the Myrtle Beach area in 1996.

Brown earned a Bachelor of Arts in Elementary Education from Loyola University and a Master of Education in Educational Administration from the University of South Carolina.

About the Charleston County School District

Charleston County School District (CCSD) is the second largest school system in South Carolina representing a unique blend of urban, suburban, and rural schools that span 1,000 square miles along the coast. CCSD serves more than 50,000 students in 86 schools and specialized programs. With approximately 6,100 employees district-wide, CCSD is the fourth largest employer in the region.

CCSD offers a diverse, expanding portfolio of options and specialized programs, delivered through neighborhood, charter, magnet, IB (international baccalaureate), and Montessori schools, and is divided into three Learning Communities. Options include specialized programs in science, engineering and mathematics; liberal arts; music and other creative and performing arts; career and technical preparation programs; and military and other public service enterprises.
